Mobile Storage

(Published in Catering Update July 2004)

Refrigerated trailers for food storage at outdoor catering events can be rented from recently established Big Fridge. With five units in continuous use throughout the country and clients to date including a film location caterer and the armed forces, the company is looking to double its fleet within 12 months.

Founders James White, Andrew Houston and Nick Appleyard came up with the idea during a trip to Australia and believe there is a significant gap in the UK event catering market.

Trailers are approximately 2.4 x 2.0 metres, with delivery and collection service to site provided. Operation involves connection to household electrical sockets or generators in remote locations.
